Dear Colleagues,

We are delighted to share an internship opportunity for an Assistant Teacher at CEIP Balaídos, a primary school in Vigo, Spain. If you need any further information, please feel free to contact the school directly at xelacunarro@edu.xunta.gal.

ASSISTANT TEACHER. CEIP BALAIÓDOS

General information

Duration: 3 monthsCommitment: 3-4 days per week

Description:

We are an Infant and Primary School, teaching children from 3 to 12 years old. We are located in Vigo (Spain). Our main subject is the environment. Our goals are integrating the environment realistically in the Science stream, as well as reducing the waste generated in the school by creating a sustainable school environment. Our school has natural spaces not only in the facilities but also in its surroundings (Lagares River), although it is located in an urban area. In these facilities we have developed projects such as the vegetable garden and the laboratory. We would like to integrate this nature in our syllabus fully, so that everything in the school takes advantage of it. At the same time the reduction of waste will have an impact both on the pupils and their homes, causing a social gain. All these projects are carried out collaborating with other institutions. Thus, we will share the benefits, improving the quality of local and global education.

The stay of trainee teachers will be essential for the implementation of the activities related to these projects and also for them to get to know the Galician/Spanish educational system, our language and methodology when teaching.

They will help to detect the needs of the students, as well as carrying out the activities of reception of the participating schools and their integration in the centre. At the same time, they will help to integrate the new learning derived from job shadowing daily in our centre, by means of a good practice dossier and the promotion and diffusion of the Zero Waste programme. They will be responsible for the integration of nature in the school curriculum, supporting the creation of the nature classroom and the study of activities in it. They will support the activities and at the same time they will spread facts of their own culture and care of nature, which will help to achieve the aim of our project – making our school a more sustainable place.

The trainee teachers will complement their studies in our school, which will serve to improve their degree and acquire resources and competences which will help them in their working career. Our centre will take advantage of this relationship, since the trainee teacher will be a fundamental support in order to implement and spread our project. Both, the school and the trainee teachers, are going to learn different resources and itineraries regarding teaching. These will serve to improve and adapt them to our school. They will teach us how to do story-telling activities in nature, interpretive trails in which we will discover the living beings we can find in the riverside, learning to differentiate and describe them. Furthermore, we will learn how to motivate our students to achieve a Zero Waste break. The trainee teachers will be guide and support in all this process.
