Company Description

Cucavela is a no-profit organization based in Palma de Mallorca, which promotes intercultural dialogue, youth participation, active citizenship and democracy. The association offers several educational and cultural activities addressed to children, young people and people with fewer opportunities (like, women victims of violence, immigrants, and more).

Cucavela is specialized in no-formal educational projects at an international and intercultural level like EVS (European Voluntary Service), Work Camps, Youth exchanges both in hosting and sending.

Projects focus on the empowerment of young people, enhancing their role for the creation of a better civil society and European citizenship through their active participation. The Association has gained a broad experience in the fields of youth policies and international mobility, involving many young people in international projects and hosting.

Cucavela organizes many activities as well as Intercultural activities, that imply the coordination, organisation and implementation of youth mobility projects at local, national and international level. A open and effective dialogue between different cultures for a better cooperation is promoted, along with the opportunities and values of Erasmus+ and the European Commission. Cultural activities, which can include events, presentations, meetings taking place in the office of the association but also in other venues, such as the city library. Such events connect the association even more with the local community and provide youngsters with a healthy and stimulating context for ideas exchange.

Educational activities, which can be realised through laboratories, workshops and presentations and happen in both school and extra-school contexts, like for examples in youth centres. Using non-formal education methods and pro-active approach, such events are also meant to raise awareness and discussion about European and global relevant issues, such as citizenship, arts and human rights.

Qualified staff is constantly improving to ensure the quality of work and to find patterns that match the changes in society.
